

HOW MUCH IS MY CASE WORTH?

A good attorney, someone who understands the process, would not be able to answer that question the first time you meet. This is because on the first day, or first time that a lawyer and a client meet, it is extremely difficult to understand the extent of the injuries and the type of damages that need to be reimbursed to the client.

DETERMINE DAMAGES

We need to find out what the medical expenses are and the nature of the medical injuries so we can have a better understanding of how much the case is worth.

WHAT IS YOUR CLAIM RELATED TO?

The compensation that is going to be paid to the client varies. Claims may be related to injuries, loss of earnings, loss to enjoyment of life, and the loss of potential earning capacity.

IS THERE A LOSS OF EARNINGS?

If someone can no longer do that person's type of work and has to change his or her job title or trade because he or she is unable to do certain things due to an injury—these things all have value with regards to compensation for personal injury cases.

HOW WILL THE INSURANCE COMPENSATE?

Every insurance company is different and determines compensation based on their own policies. What terms and conditions a company uses is impossible to determine without qualified investigation.

For more information visit: DrakeLawGroup.com